SAT & SUN 5-6	WEEKEND PRAYER FOR UPGs PRAY for the Jogi Country: India Population: 3.2 million Language: Bengali Main Religion: Hinduism Evangelical: 0.00% The Jogi are a people group who practice yoga as part of their daily routine. Jogi is the colloquial term for yogi. The Jogi were originally a community that over time formed into a caste. They worship the Hindu god Shiva and follow the yoga belief system where they seek to attain complete union with the supreme being. They traditionally wear saffron colored clothing which indicates they are followers of yoga. Many have taken on a lifestyle of religious begging, relying on charity to survive. Others earn a living through fortune telling, divination, or practicing exorcism. Pray that they would recognize Jesus as the Supreme Being and they would give their life to following Him as the one True Lord. Pray for them to have open hearts to receive the Gospel and the freedom that is found in Christ. Pray that they would be freed from the beggar mentality and would have viable employment opportunities.

SAT & SUN 12-13	WEEKEND PRAYER FOR UPGs PRAY for the Tabasaran Country: Russia Population: 152,000 Language: Tabasaran Main Religion: Islam Evangelical: 0.08% The Tabasaran people live in Dagestan, along the Caspian Sea in the southernmost part of Russia. The majority of the population live in 99 villages in the region while others live in some urban centers. They claim to be “the most hospitable of all Dagestani people” as friendship and hospitality are among their highest values. If a person has many friends, they are considered to be wealthy. Their culture is based on mutual aid in day-to-day life, respect for elders, and societal care for the sick and poor. The Tabasaran have a collective male decision making council at the center of each village that helps make village decisions. Male drunkenness is a prevalent problem as well as cycles of violence and vengeance. Pray for the Tabasaran to open their hearts to Jesus and to receive His hospitality to the Kingdom of God. Pray for the Holy Spirit to bring transformation to their villages, that they would turn from their drunkenness and wicked ways, and seek forgiveness.

SAT & SUN 19-20	WEEKEND PRAYER FOR UPGs PRAY for the Qizilbash Country: Afghanistan Population: 306,000 Language: Dari Main Religion: Islam Evangelical: 0.00% The Qizilbash are descendants from the Azeri Turk tribe that originated in the regions of Anatolia and Azerbaijan. The Qizilbash came into Afghanistan in 1738, when they were serving as troops during the India campaign of Iranian ruler Nadir Shah Afshar. Today the Qizilbash live in the major urban centers as well as in the villages of central Afghanistan. They are craftsmen and tradesmen who have historically held important roles in government and continue to have important political influence on society. They adhere to Twelver Shia Islam as taught by sheikhs Haydar and his son Isma'il. They believe that their rulers are divine beings; thus, other orthodox Shias would consider them to be extremists. Pray for laborers to come and serve among the Qizilbash and to stand in the gap and intercede for their people. Pray that they would see that Jesus is Lord—the one true King and that He would be exalted among them. Pray for a strong local church to be planted among the Qizilbash people.

THU 24	PRAY for those who attend Share English clubs. Pray that their interactions with others in the group and with the club leaders would open doors for spiritual conversations. Pray that as groups discuss themes like love during the month of February, that English learners would start to seek the Heavenly Father who loves them.
FRI 25	PRAISE God that more young people are listening to the programs (40% of the audience are aged 18-24) and pray that the hearts of these young people will be made receptive to Jesus.
SAT & SUN 26-27	WEEKEND PRAYER FOR UPGs PRAY for the Gola Country: Liberia Population: 177,000 Language: Gola Main Religion: Islam Evangelical: 0.82% The Gola are skilled farmers who live in the rural areas of western Liberia. They grow rice, yams, peanuts, and taro. The entire family works together in raising the crops; men cultivate the land, women and children plant the seeds, boys keep the animals and birds away from the fields, and girls winnow the rice. Gola celebrations center around agriculture including the yam and peanut harvests. While the Gola are mostly Muslim, many still practice ancestor worship. For example, in a season of drought, the village elder will pray to a god called Da while holding the skull of an ancestor. He will sacrifice an animal and pour the blood over the skull. They believe that when someone dies, he or she is reincarnated and born into the family of either the mother or father. Pray for the Gola to recognize the one true God who created the heavens and the earth and is Lord over the rain and the crops. Pray that they see Jesus is the one true sacrifice that takes away their sin as well as provides for all of their needs. Pray for believers in Liberia to be bold and share the Gospel with their unreached neighbors.
